Mr. Bennett was sergeant and the others guards. They had enough of that character of work.—Halsteadville Herald.

A Scene Once For Drury—The prescription of Dr. Biggers, of Dallas, Mrs. Dara See was cured by it, when all else failed. Apply to M. Chas. See, Shiner.

Fred Tate has commenced to make arrangements to feed somewhere between four and six hundred head of cattle for Bindworth & Moors. Fred expects to start in feeding about the 1st of November.—Flatonia Argus.

THE CAMEL'S HEAD.

"Where the camel's head goes his body follows," says an Oriental proverb. It's the same way with disease. A small opening will give it an entrance and when disease once has a place in the body a large number of ills may follow it.

The opening for disease is often found in a "weak" stomach. When the stomach is "weak" the body also becomes weak, by lack of nutrition, and disease attacks the heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the weak stomach strong. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and so enables the body to resist or throw off other diseases.

Men and women who are sick are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and so obtain without charge the opinion of a specialist on their ailments. All correspondence strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"For the past two years I have been very weak," writes a lady of Crockett, "and Am. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has done me no good." As the doctor to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When I started I was all run down and had a very unpleasant taste in my mouth. Was sicked up and at times it was very hard for me to breathe. I had severe headaches and suffered greatly from pain in the head. Was unable to sleep at night and could not eat. I have now taken the health tonic and am deeply in my 1st floor like myself again. I can go up and down stairs and perform my duties as well as any one. Everything seems to be right and I can assure you that life is worth living.

Accept no substitutes for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing just as good for digestion or health.

Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Tablets.

The Boll Weevil.

The cotton-boll weevil is yet a factor to be reckoned with in estimating the cotton yield of Texas. It appears that in some where the cultural methods advised by the entomologists have been practiced, there is but little damage done by the pest. Elsewhere in the infested region, the crop has been almost destroyed. In many localities the boll weevil has done more damage than the bollworm, and in isolated areas, either of these pests has done material damage. It is impossible to closely estimate the damage to the crop from pest. Only the actual crop made and marketed will decide the matter.—Farm and Ranch.

For Sale.

Fine Durham and Hereford bulls and heifers.

H. A. Woods,
Shiner, Texas.

Weevils Survive Freezing.

A dispatch from Taylor, Wil. Co., says that Mama or G. E. King of the Taylor ice factory captured a dozen full-grown, active boll weevils, which he placed in a small phial, and after tightly corking the bottle he took it to the factory and there froze it in the middle of a 200-pound cake of ice. After the freezing process the cake of ice was placed on exhibition on the street and allowed to melt. When the weevils were exposed to the sunshine after thirty hours' exposure in this frozen receptacle they showed signs of activity and life.

This shows the kind of problem the man who captures that $50,000 prize offered by the state of Texas will have to contend with.—Texas Farm Journal.

Wanted at Once.

A white woman to cook and do house work. Apply to the Gazette office.

Joe Henneke had a couple of samples stalks of the King variety of cotton which he was exhibiting at patches in Lavaca county this season was from seed distributed by Congressman Burgess. The sample stalks exhibited by Mr. Henneke were literally loaded with bolls, and Mr. Henneke says that some of the stalks carried as many as a hundred bolls. It was only the top bolls that had been punctured by the weevil, the rest having opened perfectly. Cotton like the stalks shown would produce a bale to the acre. The Herald understands that quite a number of farmers intend ordering King cotton seed for next year's planting.—Halsteadville Herald.

I have had occasion to use your Black Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and am pleased to say that I never used anything for stock that gave half as good satisfaction. I highly recommend it to all buyers of stock.

J. B. BELSFER, St. Louis, Mo.

Stock stock or poultry should not eat clean stock, it always eats more than sick persons should expect to be caused by food. When your stock and poultry are sick give them medicine. Don't trust them with worthless stock foods. Untaint the bowels and stir up the torpid liver. It cures every malady of stock if taken in time. Sixty-cent can of Black Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine and it will pay for itself ten times over. Horses, work-horses, Cows give more milk. Hogs gain flesh. And hogs money. It solves the problem of making as much blood, flesh and energy as possible out of the smallest amount of food consumed. Buy a can from your dealer.

True Happiness.

The best sort of happiness is rarely visible to the multitude. It lies hidden in odd corners and quiet places, and the outer world, which presumption is seeking it, hurries past and never recognizes it, but continues to mistake for it prosperity and riches, noise and laughter, even fame and mere cheap notoriety.—Henry Seton Merriman in "The Virtuous."

A French Cantata.

In a French churchyard is a monument bearing an inscription of which the following is a transcript: "Here lies Jean Pina, the Spanish violinist. When he reached heaven, he uttered his voice with the voices of the angels. As a reward, he earned him the liberty of playing on the violin in heaven, and let me hear above the illustrious singer, Jesus Christ."

Just the size.

The silver tongs peeped up behind the hills of Luke Behan.

"What is the height of your ambition?" she asked, more to break the monotony than anything else.

"Oh, about 5 feet 6 inches," he replied, passing into her dark eyes.

The credits are out—New York herald.

Well Please.

"I say, Bobby," whispered Flipperton, "wasn't your sister pleased to learn that I had called upon her?"

"Yes, indeed she was," replied Bobby. "When mother told her that you had called while she was out, she said, 'Thank heaven!'

EVEN CHANCE.

C.—Thought you were going to marry Miss K.?

G.—Going to a walk her tonight. My chawances are about even.

C.—How so, dim boy?

G.—She must say either "yes" or "no."
